

Maria Vittoria Paolillo

PERSONAL PROFILE

A designer of jewellery by vocation, Maria Vittoria Paolillo was born in the midst of precious gems thanks to her family's business. Then followed studies in gemmology and numerous journeys – a constant source of inspiration – with only one objective: the creation of a personal brand based on the search for more accessible materials and designs. A task that led to a collaboration with Trussardi, but which has also become a source of visibility for her, leading her to become testimonial for Estée Lauder, Chanel and Atelier Emé.
